

Guthrie, Jeremy (Crofton)

Good morning everyone,

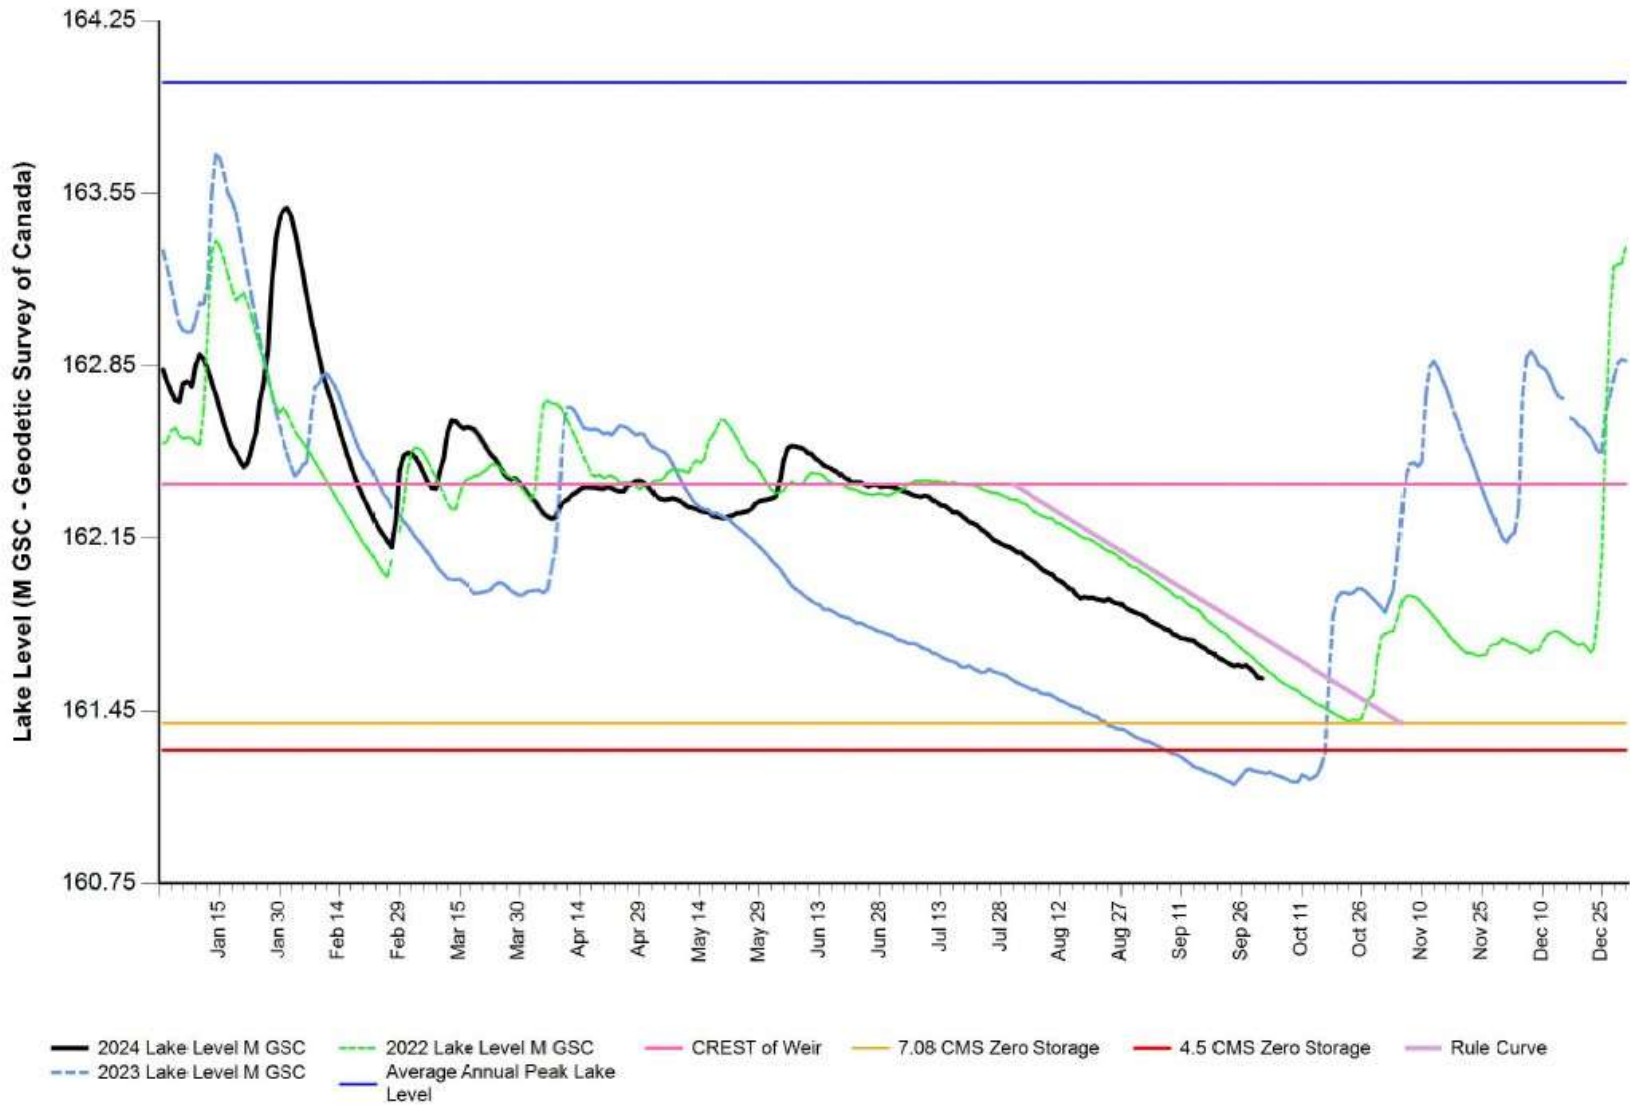

I hope you're having a wonderful day so far. Brian Houle is currently away on vacation for the next two weeks, and I will be updating the group in his stead.

Weather conditions are still trending towards wetter weather, which is great for the region's salmon management programs. Current weather predictions show a possible chance of rain today and on Thursday evening, adding to the amount of water within the watershed system. Today will mark the end of the fish pulse flow in the river, with the operators slowly decreasing flow by 1cms per day until we reach the prescribed 7cms river flow. If the lake level starts to rise beyond the updated rule curve we will initiate another increase in flow, though this will be highly dependent on the area forecast.

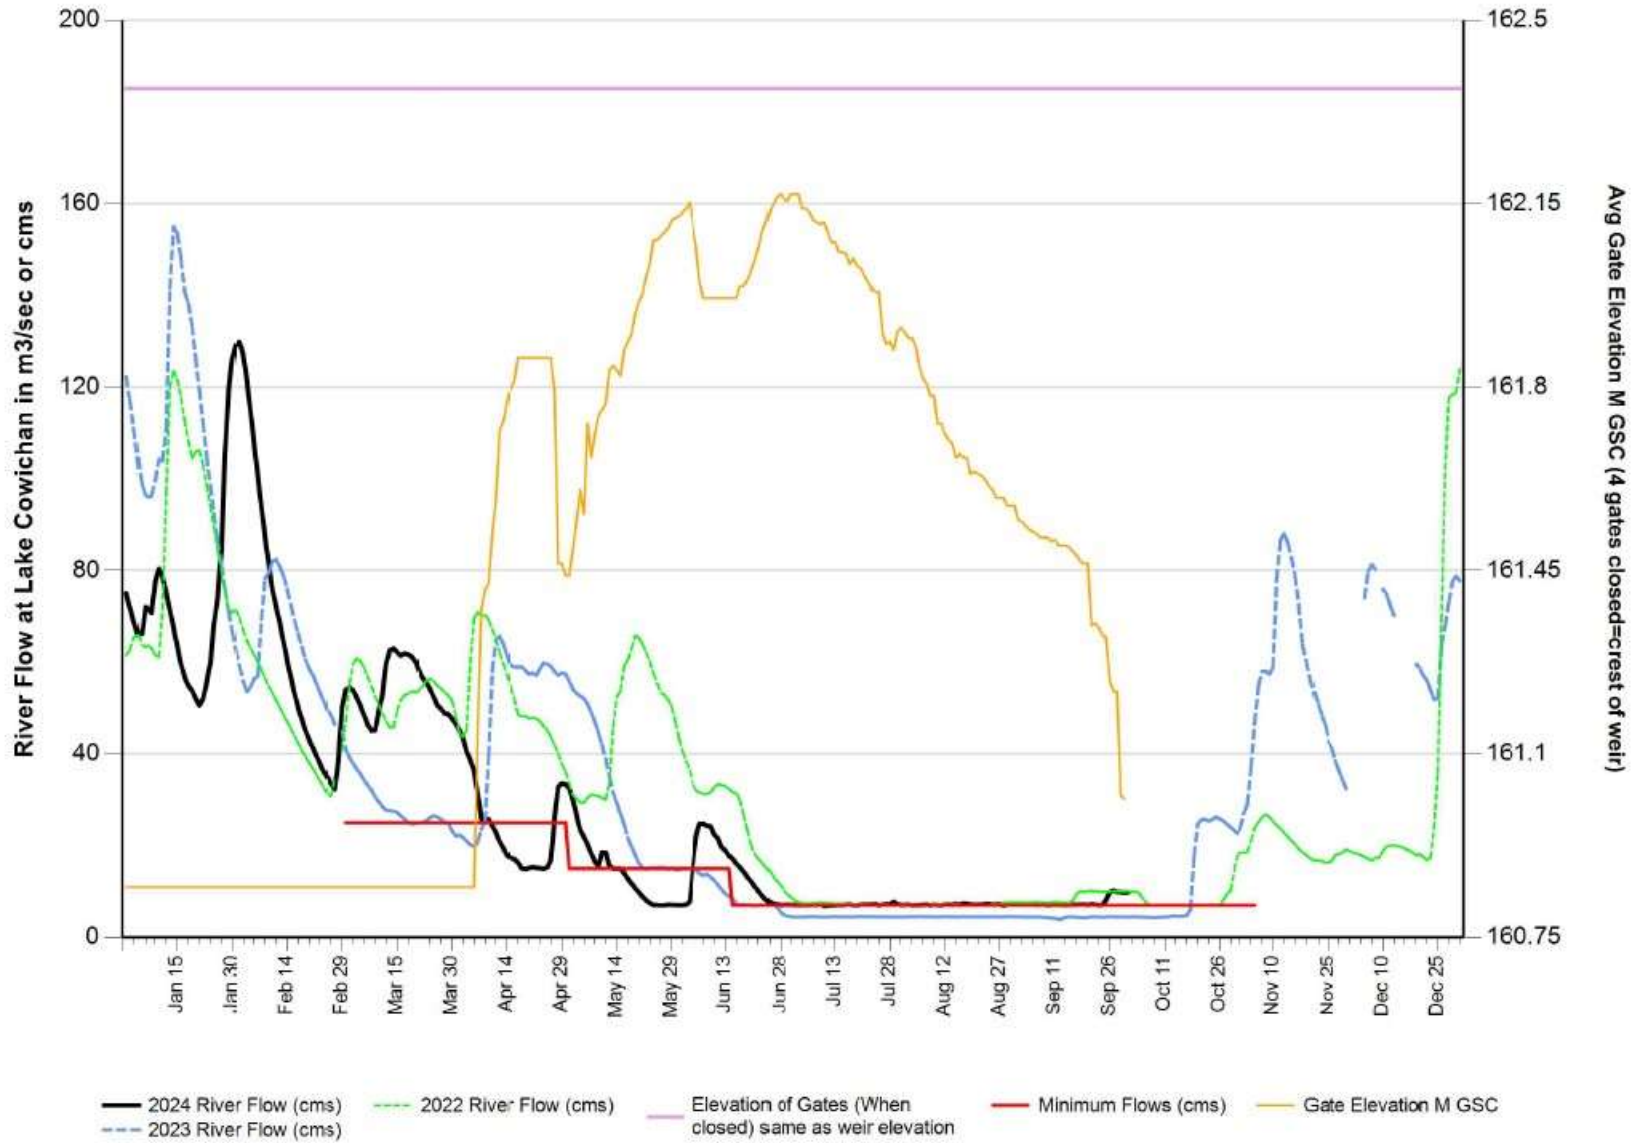

Please find attached the updated trends and area forecast.

Sincerely,
Jeremy Guthrie
